LINE IS LONGEST TO GO OUT OF MEXIA IN YEARS

At 8:30 Tuesday morning, headed by Hardy Eubanks, President of the Mexia Chamber of Commerce and a stunt band, scores of automobiles, highly colored, decorated and laden with literature spreading the gospel of Mexia's Merchandise Shower, and several hundred enthusiastic business men and citizens, left on the first Trade Trip that has been staged by Mexia business interests since before the oil boom, four years ago. The caravan of cars was by odds the biggest line of automobiles that has gone out of here, on a single mission bent, in many years.

Many women went along and practically every firm in the business, both retail and wholesale district of Mexia, was represented, showing a spirit of cooperation existing in Mexia that is sure to bring a rich reward to all.

The business concerns represented carried along literature advertising Mexia's Merchandise Shower on November the Eighth, and explanations as to how the public might share in the $3,500 worth of premiums to be distributed on that date in Mexia.

2,000 extra issues of The Mexia Daily News, especially prepared for the trip, and bearing today's date line, with a welcome to the entire public, were loaded on trucks and in cars to be distributed along the route. Jimmie Stewart, representing the circulation department of The News and C. L. Tatum, Manager of the Advertising Department that had worked zealously in putting the event over, were in the line of automobiles.

This sixteen page edition, with an attractive colored cover, was in the hands of every evangel who made the trip.

The automobiles began to assemble in front of the Hurdleston hotel before 8.00 o'clock, scheduled to leave at that hour.

Tom Meador, Photographer, took a picture of the caravan before it left, thirty minutes later. The caravan moved from Sherman Street, West on Main to Central, thence to Commerce Street and out East Commerce to Teague, each car gaily decorated and the tourists in fine mood to carry the message of Mexia to thousands of nearby citizens. The cars, moving together closely, extended as far as the eye could see out Commerce, before the last auto reached Commerce Street.

Many who had not thought much of going along were then enthused to the point that they began preparations to join the caravan later in the day as it covers the territory to be covered.

Pathfinder T. B. Haines went out Monday over the proposed line of travel, but was in some doubt about making certain points on account of the bad conditions of certain roads.

The stunt band was one of the features of the parade. Willie Wright, dressed up to advertise Ladies Ready to Wear at Higdon-McElroy's was another. The cars were all decorated to advertise the Merchandise Shower and especially attractive banners were carried by some of the firms, advertising sales and certain wares offered here. Bargain prices, quality merchandise and other features of advertising novelties were carried along by many of the business men and in the path of the tourists, these are now being distributed liberally and there'll be a long, long trail of good reading left when the tourists return tonight.

Folwell, treasurer of the Manufacturers' Club of Philadelphia, was another important witness before the committee.

PROBERS DOUBLE UP TO FINISH CAMPAIGN LOOK IN

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—In order to air all possible evidence of campaign funds before election the Senate investigating committee divided today—one section remaining here, the other going to Chicago where a simultaneous inquiry will begin Wednesday.

Chairman Borah and Senator Shipsted, Minnesota, will constitute the Chicago committee which will subject Chairman Butler and Treasurer Hodges of the Republican National Committee to further examination. Samuel Untermyer, New York lawyer, associated with Frank P. Walsh, as counsel for Senator La Follette, will accompany the committee to Chicago.

Meanwhile Senators Caraway, Arkansas and Bayard, Delaware, will conduct the investigation here. Walsh will stay here to press his charges of a huge slush fund in examining a score of bankers and business men called to testify regarding republican contributors.

At the same time Weymouth Kirkland of Chicago, cousel for the Republican National Committee, who entered the investigation yesterday indicated that he intends to insist upon the calling of witnesses to substantiate his charges that "enormous sums" are being spent on behalf of the La Follette campaign and not accounted for by the independent managers.

While in Chicago, Borah's section of the committee probably will hear the republican state chairman of Illinois and Ohio, called at the request of Untermyer. The republican State Chairman of Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey are expected to be heard here within the next few days.

"In view of the fact that our present display of relics and curios is fast crowding the present cabin, the gift is both timely and thoughtful," she said. ## YOUNG LOEB MAY ATTEND FUNERAL OF HIS FATHER

(By United Press)

CHICAGO, Oct. 28. — Richard "Dickie" Loeb who with Nathan Leopold Jr., murdered 14-year-old Bobby Franks, may be released from the Illinois State penitentiary at Joliet long enough to attend the funeral of his multi-millionaire father, Tibert H. Loeb, who died at his home here shortly before midnight.

John L. Whitman, ward of the penitentiary is known to favor the granting of permission to prisoners to attend funerals of near relatives and if application is made, it is considered almost certain that Dickie will leave the prison for a few hours at least.

Richard's father, senior vice-president of Sears-Roebuck & Company, expired of heart failure after a prolonged illness. Members of the Loeb family were emphatic in denying that death was brought about or even hastened by the confession, court hearing and sentencing of his third eldest son to penitentiary for life.

JOLIET, Ill., Oct. 28.—"Dickie" Loeb doesn't know that his father, Albert H. Loeb is dead.

Young Loeb, who was sentenced to life imprisonment in the Illinois State penitentiary here for murdering Bobby Franks, probably will be notified some time today of his father's death in Chicago last night, Warden John L. Whitman told the United Press.

The notification, Whitman said, will be simple and will not interfere with the prisoner's work. He will work as usual in the chair factory.

Permission to attend his father's funeral can be granted young Loeb only by Governor Len Small, Whitman explained.

Ben B. Hunt was a Groesbeck visitor Tuesday afternoon.

MIDDLE WEST IS INTERESTED IN BALL SCANDAL INQUIRY

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

COLUMBUS, Ohio., Oct. 28.—While the Middle West is interested primarily in football now, there is considerable talk about the recent baseball scandal and some curiosity as to what Commissioner Landis is going to do about it.

The scandal, perhaps, would not have drawn so much attention in the Middle West, if it had involved the players of any other club, but there is a general feeling of animosity toward the National League champions all over the western scope of the circuit.

It is not a personal matter at all but a reflex action of the old desire to see a champion hit on the chin after he has been the champion for a while.

Not only because they have been champions so long and because they have been accused of buying pennants through the purchase of star players, are the Giants so well known in the West. The New York team became the most prominent club in the league years ago when John McGraw took around the circuit a club that would knock an ear off if even a cold look was cast at them.

The feeling exists all through the Middle West that there is something more to the scandal than has been made public and the feling is being expressed that Commissioner Ladis owns it to the public to give all the information at his disposal without being forced into court to talk.

The fans in the Middle West still feel how they were fooled over the White Sox scandal in 1919 and they don't want to be placed in the sucker class again. Other baseball talk aside fro mthe scandal, is being heard. It is reported that Roxy Ryan, the Giant pitcher, has been traded to the St. Louis Cards and that Rogers Hornsby will succeed Branch Ricksey as the manager of the St. Louis Club.

Rube Benton is to be traded or released by the Cincinnati Reds for the same reason that Pat Duncan was sent away to Washington, it is said. They were said to be out of sympathy with their manager last season. George Burns, the veteran Giant outfielder may be traded.

HAUGHTON DIES SUDDENLY AT NEW YORK HOSPITAL

By FRANK GETTY.
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

The famous gridiron mentor passed away suddenly from an attack of neuralgia of the heart at St. Luke's Hospital at 5:10 p. m. Monday.

Haughton practically died in harness; he was donning his football togs preparatory to directing the Columbia University eleven in practice at Bakerfield, when he complained of pains in his chest. Two hours later he died.

Tribute to Haughton as a man and as a coach poured into Columbia today. Walter Camp, Coach "Bob" Fisher of Harvard, Roper of Princeton and John T. Blossom, Yale, director of athletics all were shocked at the sudden death of the football genius whose "Haughton System" had enabled Harvard teams to sweep the gridirons of the east.

While Haughton was at Harvard, his teams won 61 games, tied five and lost but four. But his achievement within the past fortnight at Columbia was being hailed by football enthusiasts as even more remarkable, when his sudden end plunged the university into deep gloom. Haughton had given Columbia a scrapping, scientific eleven, perhaps its best in a score of years and victory over Williams Saturday marked the accomplishment.

Himself a famous athlete in his younger days—Haughton was in his 49th year—the coach had enjoyed good health. At the end, doctors at St. Luke's were assuring him there was nothing the matter with his heart. It developed later, however, that his mother and one brother died from a simular cause.

The coach was in his room at Bakerfield getting into uniform, when he complained of pains in his chest and shoulders. Dr. Paul C. Withington, medical director and line coach of the Columbia team, persuadad him with difficulty to lie down and later to go to St. Luke's. There, following a hypodermic injection, he felt better for a while and remarked "I think I'll be back on the job in a day or two." Then he fell back dead.

Dr. Withington will take charge of Columbia's football team for the remainder of the season.

"Paul, congratulate the team for me. Tell them I'll be proud of them," was the message Haughton sent from the hospital a few minutes before he died.

Sam Werner was a Coolidge visitor today where he joined the Mexia caravan of cars advertising the Merchandise Shower.

FORD DECLARES COOLIDGE IS BEST MAN IN RACE

(By United Press)

DETROIT, Mich. Oct. 28.—"I'm for Coolidge because he is opposed to the money power," declared Henry Ford today in a statement issued by the automobile manufacturer from his Dearborn offices.

"Personally," he declared, "I have no doubt but that Coolidge will be decisively elected. He will be elected because he has refused to be the tool of any class. He has not served any special interest. Wall street has found that he cannot be handled and by Wall street I mean that section of the international money trust that operates in the United States in Wall street, in Lombard street in London and in the Place De La Bourse in Paris. That is the money power that made the war, poisoned the pence, exploited Germany and threw England into unemployment. That money power does not want Calvin Coolidge.

"Men have come to me and asked how I could support Coolidge, a republican when I supported Wilson, a democrat. I'm not supporting Coolidge because he is a republican. I did not support Wilson because he was a democrat. I am for Coolidge now because I believe that he thinks more of the people than of the party. I think he is an able man, deserving the support of all forward looking men.

"I appreciate the fact that Coolidge's opponents have attempted to make it appear that his support has largely a corporation flavor. Coolidge is supported by American businessmen but I believe that he is for American business as against the money power. Not for a long time has our government been so free of the influence of special interests as during Coolidge's brief administration. He stands for the new as against the old; honesty as against old compromise; public service as against party log rolling. New business systems confront each other in this country—production as against profits; service as against spoils. I think Coolidge is on the side of production, service and prosperity. That's why I am for Coolidge."

$1,000 Gift Made To Democrat Fund

George A Gordon, former chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee, responding to the call for funds to aid in assuring the victory of John W. Davis, Democratic presidential nominee, has subscribed $1,000 to the cause, according to notification to A. H. Eubanks, County Finance Chairman for Democratic National Committee, by the Dallas office.

"Mr. Cardon is but one of the many Texans who have subscribed liberally to aid the fight," says Mr. Eubanks, "but there are many in the county who have not subscribed and who should do so at once as only a few days remain before the final test comes at the polls. By joining the Victory Clubs and paying $10, $5 or even $1 for membership, loyal Democrats are performing a duty that is almost as imperative as going to the voting booth and voting, and to be a member of the Victory Clubs means that you are for Davis and Bryan.

"The wonderful battle being waged by the nominees gives every prospect of a successful climax, but is being handicapped almost to its end by the National Committee's being in need of funds for necessary expenses, and every Democrat should do his best to alleviate such a situation.

"Everey indication points to a Democratic victory at the polls. As the Memphis Commercial-Appeal say editorially: 'The intelligent thought of the United States is reacting very strongly against the campaign of silence that President Coolidge is waging. It is remembering that his is just as impotent against official corruption.' Political analysts are becoming convinced that Colidge's re-election is next to impossible."

Judge A. M. Blackmon and Hon. Frank Bolton are scheduled to deliver addresses Wednesday night at Thornton in the interest of the Democratic party ticket.

J. K. Hughes was able to be out today, following an attack of tonsolitis. He is very much enthused over the prospects of the early discovery of oil in the Northeast Mexia territroy

The Harrison-Preston number 1 test at Kosse is reported to be drilling at around 1,000 feet. The test is being watched with growing interest.

A Mode of Blendorizing Lines

Fur Bands Give Additional Chic

Each new design that Paris produces for the well-proportioned figure shows that it is possible for the stout woman to wear whatever is designed for slender figures, provided one knows how to make the necessary adaptations

In the first place one of the suede-finished fabrics that cling to the figure was selected for this model. All of the ultra-smart fabrics come in a variety of browns that offer a becoming tone for every type of face or figure. For this model 3½ yards of kasha cloth are needed, with 3 yards of narrow fur banding. It will be noticed that nowhere does the fur run in a continuous line, thereby increasing the apparent size of the figure.

The two diagrams show how to cut the shaped facing for the armhole of the lining, since the sleeves and vestee are attached to a fitted lining. Select a piece of the same material as the garment and be careful to match the grain of the goods. Lay the edge of the lining right side downward on the right side of the uncut material (Fig. I), to be used for the facing. Baste perfectly flat, then stitch on the machine. Cut the facing material the same shape as the lining, clipping the edge of each curve to make the facing lie flat.

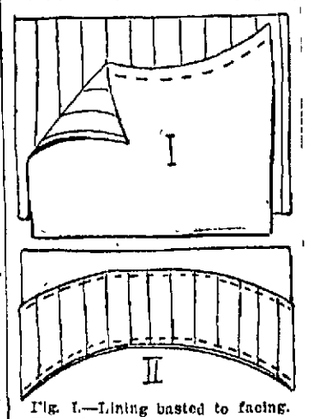

Fig. I.—Lining basted to facing.
Fig. II.—Finish facing

Turn the facing to the under side, drawing the seam back from the edge of the lining and baste. Mark the exact width of the facing from the bottom line, cut the facing and baste (Fig II). Finish with fine hemming stitches or, if preferred, overstitch with narrow soutache braid.

"For Mexia. I WILL"

A WORTHY MISSION PERFORMED WELL

The business men of Mexia, through the Retail Merchants Association, Chamber of Commerce, Manufacturers and Jobbers Association, Lions Club, Rotary Club and other civic and commercial organizations are to be congratulated most highly because of the successful efforts to stage a trade tour today.

Not all the territory adjacent and tributary to Mexia will be covered in this one day's tour, but a worthy start has been made, which will doubtless lead to similar expeditions in future years, which will reckon to cover the entire territory and which will plan for a tour of several days.

John McElroy and L. S. Patterson have sacrificed much valuable time in working up the plans and attending to details, assisted by Secretaries T. B. Haines and Jere Cason of the M. R. A. and C. of C. respectively, while scores of alert and active business heads have given unstintedly of their cooperation. Thus it was that at 8:30 this morning there went out of here a stream of favorable publicity and advertising which is sure to bring back a veritable wave of business, in which every Mexia firm and every Mexia citizen is to profit.

There is no doubt but that the efforts today will reap a rich reward and marks the most important effort to cement friendships between this and neighboring places that has been noted here in many years.

For the past several years, The News has urged upon Mexia business men the wisdom and necessity of going on such an excursion of friendship and good will, and when the Retail Merchants Association started the movement, soon oined in whole heartedly by the Chamber of Commerce, it was evident that the thing would be put over as a success of a super variety and of the highest and most commendable order.

Other cities of Texas, nearly all, if not everyone of them, have found such expeditions worth while and Mexia, in the past, too, had discovered the value of such trips. It has been surprising that Mexia waited so long between times to do anything.

Hardy Eubanks, President of the Chamber of Commerce, headed the carvan of cars that went out of here today, and in each and every town and community visited, The News went along, thousands of them, to help spread the gospel of a better community throughout the length and breadth of Limestone and parts of Freestone county.

Through this excursion, the entire section will be apprised again and most eloquently of the fact that Mexia is indeed "The City That Vision Is Building," and a delightful place to spend one day or many years within.

By such methods, the entire section is to be benefited; the communities are to be bound more closely together; friendships will be cemented and industry, thrift and fraternity will be elevated to a more conspicuous and worthy place in community commerce and progress.

It shows once more what may be done through intelligent and unselfish leadership.

Oklahoma Demos. Charge Klan Trick

(By United Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 28.—A warning was being broadcast from State Democratic Headquarters here late Monday to county Democratic leaders that an eleventh hour attempt is being made to swing the entire Ku Klux Klan vote in Oklahoma to the Republican national ticket.

Meetings have been called for next Monday night by 216 klaverns in Oklahoma to instruct all klansmen to vote for the Coolidge-Dawes ticket, C. W. B. Hinds, manager of the Democratic Publicity Bureau this afternoon.

SCHOOL WORK IN CERTAIN STUDIES ARE BELOW PAR

FORT WORTH, Texas, Oct. 28.—Spelling, geography and algebra as taught in Texas schools are not up to standard, according to findings of the Texas School Survey directors. In a statement released today by Dr. George A. Works, Director, it is pointed out that in the small rural schools the average is below that of larger town schools, and that the town schools are in turn below the average of the city schools.

Spelling.

In the fifth and seventh grades, small rural schools are distinctly below the large rural schools in student achievements. The city schools are a good bit better than the larger rural schools, and in the fifth grade approximate the standard and in the seventh are a little above the standard by which the test was measured.

Geography.

Geography averages ran about the same as those in spelling, though they were made only in the seventh grade. However, student achievement was even less in geography, especially in the rural schools.

Albegra.

Eighth grade students in three-year high schools were found to have accomplished less in three to five months than had students of the small four-year schools. These latter did not achieve so much as did the students of the city schools. But even the city schools failed to meet the standard tests.

Ninth grade students, with 12 to 14 months study, were found to present a different average. The small school students fell below, but the four-year school of the town and of the city were found to be equal in achievement. But neither came up to the standards of work done in six months by students of the schools accepted as standard. In fact, the Director concludes, the achievement in algebra for Texas schools falls distinctly below the standards reached in other subjects in Texas schools.

Klan And Anti-Klan May Clash In Ohio

(By United Press)

NILES, Ohio, Oct. 28.—Predicting an outbreak between the Ku Klux Klan and Knights of the Flaming Circle, anti-Klan organization, Mayor Kistler has called on Cleveland, Akron, Youngstown and Warren to send all available members of their police departments to Niles next Saturday when the Klan is scheduled to stage a masked parade.

Niles, scene of numerous so-called klan riots, is one city in Ohio in which the klan has never paraded. Mayor Kistler granted the klan permission to use the streets for a parade Saturday afternoon and at the same time refused a similar request made by the Knights of the Flaming Circle.

The anti-klansmen objected to the parade principally because the marchers are to be masked.

"Weaker Sex" Was The Stronger Here

(By United Press)

DALLAS, Oct. 28.—The idea that women are a "weaker sex" is all wet, Dallas police say.

Two men, one large and one much smaller, engaged in an exchange of mitts on one of the city's main thoroughfares early one morning recently. At the heighth of the battle three women drove up in a car, watched the one-sided affair for a moment, and stepping out of their car jerked the larger man from the smaller. Followed a lecture on the word "coward" as not defined by Mr. Webster—after which they left.

Negro Deacon Is Found With Still

(By United Press)

ECHO, Oct. 28.—Being a deacon or even pastor of a church does not make one immune from laws against manufacturing liquor in Orange county.

Two negroes, one a deacon, the other a layman, with a five-gallon still were caught in the "act" here recently.

"Boss you all suah nuff' caught us, but I don't think you ought to take me cause I'se a deacon in de chuch," one negro pleaded. The officer replied that it was rather a pleasure to take a deacon from such an occupation. The pair now occupy rooms in the county's new, three-story jail.

Are you one of those who spends your earnings in another city or town? Don't you think it would be a pretty god idea to spend it with your home town people, the people who support your churches, schools, city government? Think it over!

Plain Facts On Financial Situation

By W. S. COUSINS,

International News Service
Financial Editor.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Not so many years ago a first mortgage on real estate was considered the par excellence of investments by people who had only a modest sum to invest and were not well versed in the intricacies of finance and investments.

Investors of this type were most favorably in loaning their money on mortgage to their friends and neighbors whose property was close at hand and therefore under their constant scrutiny. This principle in practical investment is absolutely correct, provided, of course, that property valuations are conservative and allow for depreciation before the maturity of the mortgage, and that proper legal safeguards, such as clear title to property, removal of liens or other encumbrances, are provided.

The old-style first mortgage is the basis for that popular form of investment known as the real estate mortgage bond, which is in reality a certificate of partial ownership of a general mortgage on real estate. The same conditions prevail in the consideration of the attractiveness of a real estate mortgage held by our grandfathers on the property of his neighbor or of the town banking house. Is the property on which the underlying mortgage is written conservatively appraised, free from encumbrances and so situated in every way that it would sell for the amount of the total mortgage at forced sale, and are the bonds so issued that each individual holder will receive the amount due him on his holdings in the event of such sale?

How To Choose.

In choosing between a mortgage or bond as a medium of investment, the investor should consider the relative advantages of getting over property on the vicissitudes of which there might be a default in interest payments or some other breach of contract.

In the case of the bond is an investor could only confide with other holders of bonds of the same issue in the event in which he [illegible] mortgage. Owners of the property of mortgage interest, or holders of a mortgage to sue, proceed on the principal sum. The trustee, on foreclosure, may obtain full control of the property and possibly secure the return of his fees, even profit.

On the other hand, it is necessary, decision, and of interest, to possible [illegible] and other payments and other encumbrances on property is sold, such expenses may run into, and which best can be done by an organization equipped for the purpose. A trustee for a mortgage bond issue which is going into a receivership or a mortgage. Real organization, is composed of [illegible] to enforce [illegible] agreement of the mortgage in the usual manner, looks nothing, while an individual investor may block the failure to [illegible] to [illegible] point which might easily devastate the [illegible] considerable [illegible] for the investor to decide which form of security he prefers.

Can Sell Or Bonds.

While [illegible] mortgages have been the favorite [illegible] of investment, [illegible] forms of investment, the mortgage bond issued with the guaranty of a strong mortgage [illegible] can generally be [illegible] through the cash [illegible] channels.

[illegible] years investment [illegible] and bond of [illegible] mortgage [illegible] have been [illegible] and [illegible] the matter of [illegible] first

Christian General Leads Revolt

GEN. FENG, YU-HSIANG

Marshal Feng Yu-Hsiang, the Chinese "Christian General," commanding the Eleventh Division of the Chinese aNtional Army, has revolted in Pekin, seized the city's gates, cut all telephone and telegraph wires and stopped all trains, placing the Chinese Government in dire peril.

mortgage real estate bonds issued against properties that have been improperly appraised and against which the volume of bond issues has been entirely too great. The unprecedented building demand of the last few years, the high rental rates for dwelling and business building funds on the one hand, and the heavy demand for high-coupon real estate bonds in investment circles on the other, has been an incentive for excessive issues of real estate bonds which many of the bond selling corporations were unable to resist. Consequently the bars have been let down in some [illegible] the passing out of bonds on speculative property, and it is even said that some properties were bonded for more than 100 per cent of their actual value.

So long as rents remain high, income large and the yearly installments are met in sufficient sums to keep pace with the depreciation of the value of buildings on which bonds are issued, there is no great danger for the bond holder. But a sudden slump in real estate values, or wholesale removal of tenants might easily cause a calamitous decline in the values of the bonds standing against such properties. The Investment Bankers' Association of America has given much study to the subject, and the results of this study are available to all who are sufficiently interested to make inquiry at the office of this important bankers' organization in Chicago.

Radley Brings A New Industry In Form of Hatchery

J. W. Radley has installed and completed his 10,000 chick hatchery at his place of business on the road leading out of Meixa to Groesbeck, only about a mile out of town. He has brought a new thing to the Mexia section and one which will likely prove a great help to the poultry producers and one which will stimulate interest in this industry which should prove so profitable to the section. Mr. Radley is advertising his hatchery for the benefit of the public. Under his plan, poultry raisers may leave with him their trays of 96 eggs to be placed in the hatchery, which he will look after closely and with the attention of an expert at much less cost than one could hatch them in his own incubator.

The Preacher In Politics Question

(From the Baptist Standard)

Whatever the issue, whenever moral questions have come up, we have been told that preachers should let politics alone. During the prohibition campaigns it was heard frequently. Preachers were told that they should stay in their pulpit and preach the pure Gospel —and politicians who were fighting in behalf of the liquor traffic and other nefarious evils would limit the Gospel, in its application, to the world to come, and not to this present world. In the first State-wide prohibition campaign in Texas in 1887, a distinguished United States senator from Texas sealed his political doom by his attacks on Dr. B. H. Carroll and other preachers who so valiantly fought to drive out of Texas the legalized liquor traffic. We have never had a political campaign in Texas from that time until this day, whatever the issues or men involved, that we have not heard the same cry, "Preachers should stay out of politics; religion and politics will not mix." It will be so to the end of time.

Take the city and county of Dallas for instance. Some years ago Dallas county voted in favor of local option and drove out the saloons, before either State or National prohibition was adopted. The preachers along with hundreds of great-hearted laymen and women contributed to the victory. On Sunday night before the election was held in Dallas, two of the best known preachers in Texas, one a Baptist, the other a Methodist, both citizens of Dallas, urged the thousands of people assembled in the coliseum at fair park, to close the saloons with their ballots. A year or two before we had another fight to abolish the segregated districts of vice in the city. Certain city officials were opposed to the abolition of these districts. Again, the pastors of the city stood together and fought in behalf of righteousness. In both of these fights the preachers were criticized for taking part in politics. The preachers did right. No preacher who is loyal to the Gospel of the Son of God dare be indifferent to great moral issues in government.

Years ago the county was cursed by the Louisiana lottery, which was reaching out its tentacles from New Orleans and destroying thousands of homes. A brave Presbyterian preacher in New Orleans, Dr. Palmer, dared to raise his voice in protest against that institution. Financial interests connected with the lottery insisted that a preacher had no right to get into politics; but Dr. Palmer kept up the fight until the lottery was driven out of New Orleans and out of the United States.

Politics is the science of government. This is the highest and truest meaning of the term. It is used frequently, however, in a baser sense—the use of strategy and deceit, to obtain unrighteous ends. Every Christian citizen, whether preacher or layman, should be interested in politics of the higher order. No citizen has any business in politics of the other sort. Preachers are citizens and should be concerned about good government, whether of the city, the State or the nation.

In the New Testament we are told that Jesus Christ was manifested not only to take away sins, but also to destroy the works of the devil (I John 3 5 and 8). If preachers are true to their commission, they must not only hold out the hope of forgiveness for sin, but they must give themselves to the limit to the business of destroying the works of the devil.

We believe in absolute separation of church and state. We contend for religious liberty—for the right of every man to believe as he choose. No religious organization has any right to impose upon the citizens of the state without their consent, whether in public office, in schools, or elsewhere, any creedal statements, whether regeneration through personal faith in Christ or absolution by a priest. Questions of belief and worship must be left with the individual and God. But the state and the church are both concerned about conduct. Christian citizens should put in office such men, and enact such legislation as will protect the highest interests of our State and nation, and will make it easier for people to live right. The religion of Christ should find practical expression in good government. Nathan got into politics when he helped to carry out the purposes of God in putting on the throne of David, Solomon rather than Adonijah. Elijah got into politics. So did John the Baptist. So did John Knox. So have Christian leaders through all the ages.

We have just been reading again the life story of Savonarola of Florence. It is a good thing, for preachers, once in a while, to read the life story of Savonarola, to put iron into their blood. His preaching had displeased Lorenzo and the Magnificent, who was at that time the most powerful figure in Italy, and the great men of Florence. Lorenzo, so the biographer tells us, sent a deputation to wait on Savonarola, telling him that it was not good form to preach against Prince Lorenzo. "Did I receive my position from Lorenzo or from Almighty God?" Savonarola's eyes blazed and he spoke in tones of thunder. The answer was, "From Almighty God." "Then," said Savonarola, "to Almighty God will I render homeage."

It will be a tragic hour in the world's history when preachers, and their Christian fellow-workers, withdraw themselves from the affairs of government and leave the affairs of the State and nation in the hands of evil men. Let not the prophet of God become involved in purely personal or partisan questions, but when great moral issues are involved he dare not be silent.

"Good Bye Winter!" When the Sunny Caribbean Beckons

When the incomparable Melba, the Australian songbird, sang "Good Bye, Summer!" she warbled a mouthful, to use the popular speech of the street; but nowadays Melba would make even a bigger hit if she were to sing "Good Bye, Winter!" and throw a West Indies cruise ticket in with the number.

The chap in the accompanying picture was cheering for summer on a cold New York pier in January as the "Empress of Britain" with a happy load of travelers was leaving New York for a trip of 20 days to the sunny, palm-crowned islands of the storied West Indies and the mainland of South America. As a woman enjoys the inalienable privilege of changing her mind, so a ship can change her name and be just as good a ship as she ever was. The "Empress of Britain," is now the "Montroyal," named after a wonderful mountain towering over the great Canadian city of Montreal, and on Jan. 20 and Feb. 21, 1925, the "Montroyal" is to make her seventh and eighth voyages to Summerland in the romantic and historic Caribbean. She is of 24,500 tons displacement and some 15,650 tons gross register, and, being an oil-burner, old King Coal never has a chance to go aboard and smudge the white decks of her passengers.

Bermuda, the Bahamas, Porto Rico, one of Uncle Sam's possessions, Martinique, famous for the tragedy of St. Pierre, Trinidad, La Guayra and Caracas on the north shore of South America, Curacao, in the Dutch West Indies, Cartagena in Colombia, Colon and the world-famed Panama Canal, Kingston, the port of Jamaica, Port au Prince, in Hayti, and Havana, the picturesque capital of Cuba, the Queen of the Antilles—these with their strange peoples, strange customs and eternal summer, welcome a cruise ship and make their visitors almost as much at home and almost as comfortable as they are when afloat on the blue seas.

One of many interesting side trips is that to Colon and Panama, part way by rail and through the famous Culebra Cut of the Panama Canal by steamer. In Panama city tourists are shown the ruins of Old Panama which was sacked by Morgan, the pirate, in 1671. At Gatun they see the great locks which lift and lower the largest steamships passing through Uncle Sam's wonderful canal across the Isthmus of Panama.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Kendrick and son Harold went to Houston last Friday to spend the week end with their son, W. B. Jr. They were joined later by Mrs. Val Horn and Miss Elinor Moore. On Saturday, the Mexia party witnessed the triumh of the Rice Freshmen over the strong football squad from Terrill. W. B. Jr., better known as "Dub" played throughout the game. Saturday night the party had a most enjoyable dinner at the Rice which was also attended by several others from Mexia.

BE A MILLIONAIRE, SAYS BRUCE BARTON

Be a millionaire for a little while, perhaps for only one evening in a month, but don't fail to live like a prince now and then.

Too many persons, says Barton, in Hearst's International for November, save and skimp along when they might as well get a little real pleasure out of life. Barton swats bankers and real estate agents for advising everybody to stick all their money into banks or homes.

"I have seen a family set up a home as a graven image to ownership," he says. "All the joy and thrill of life were slain upon its altar. Father gave up smoking and figured that he was putting fifteen cents a day into the home. Mother never went anywhere, having no decent clothes; and at every meal the children were reminded sternly that cream and butter cost too much. The place was paid for finally, paid for in tears and blood and blighted lives. Shortly after the final payment the neighbors caught their first glimpse of the parlor. They were invited in to look at father. He looked very natural."

Mr. Barton has a theory on how a family with small means can live like millionaires once in a while and still save. In fact, he maintains his millionaire-for-a-day plan is an excellent investment for any one.

Work and Keep Fit, Advice of Health Expert to Women

CHICAGO—Work and keep fit is the best health tonic for American womanhood, declares Dr Sarah C O'Connell, high medical examiner for the Women's Catholic Order of Foresters, a fraternal society numbering more than 70,000 women as members The woman who works with hands and brain is generally more alert, more organically sound and has brighter prospects for a happy old age than her sister who lives a life of leisure, asserted this veteran medical examiner who has reviewed the applications of thousands of women seeking membership.

"Between the chances of passing a physical test by the average society woman and the average worker, I always choose the worker," said Dr. O'Connell "In the main women who do things are healthier and more likely to pass medical examinations. Many ills are augmented by worry. The woman who is employed in store, office or factory has not the time to sit around, discuss symptoms and feel sorry for herself. Her life is better ordered, she has regular activities to occupy her time and she takes good care of herself because she knows she cannot afford to be ill

"Medical examinations in our society are as careful and thorough as those of any old line company. The impression that members are admitted to a fraternal order in a haphazard manner with merely a perfunctory medical examination is all wrong. It is to the advantage of all our 1,200 courts to have a healthy membership and low death rate."

Dr. O Connell has supervision of some 1,000 subordinate medical examiners of the W. C. O. F and general charge of the health of the order. Her observations on the health of the woman who works are drawn from a large amount of personal data and experience. She is an alumna of the medical college of the University of Illinois and was elected to her office at the international convention two years ago.

LINE IS LONGEST TO GO OUT OF MEXIA IN YEARS

At 8:30 Tuesday morning, headed by Hardy Eubanks, President of the Mexia Chamber of Commerce and a stunt band, scores of automobiles, highly colored, decorated and laden with literature spreading the gospel of Mexia's Merchandise Shower, and several hundred enthusiastic business men and citizens, left on the first Trade Trip that has been staged by Mexia business interests since before the oil boom, four years ago. The caravan of cars was by odds the biggest line of automobiles that has gone out of here, on a single mission bent, in many years.

Many women went along and practically every firm in the business, both retail and wholesale district of Mexia, was represented, showing a spirit of cooperation existing in Mexia that is sure to bring a rich reward to all.

The business concerns represented carried along literature advertising Mexia's Merchandise Shower on November the Eighth, and explanations as to how the public might share in the $3,500 worth of premiums to be distributed on that date in Mexia.

2,000 extra issues of The Mexia Daily News, especially prepared for the trip, and bearing today's date line, with a welcome to the entire public, were loaded on trucks and in cars to be distributed along the route. Jimmie Stewart, representing the circulation department of The News and C. L. Tatum, Manager of the Advertising Department that had worked zealously in putting the event over, were in the line of automobiles.

This sixteen page edition, with an attractive colored cover, was in the hands of every evangel who made the trip.

The automobiles began to assemble in front of the Hurdleston hotel before 8:00 o'clock, scheduled to leave at that hour.

Tom Meador, Photographer, took a picture of the caravan before it left, thirty minutes later. The caravan moved from Sherman Street, West on Main to Central, thence to Commerce Street and out East Commerce to Teague, each car gaily decorated and the tourists in fine mood to carry the message of Mexia to thousands of nearby citizens. The cars, moving together closely, extended as far as the eye could see out Commerce, before the last auto reached Commerce Street.

Many who had not thought much of going along were then enthused to the point that they began preparations to join the caravan later in the day as it covers the territory to be covered.

Pathfinder T. B. Haines went out Monday over the proposed line of travel, but was in some doubt about making certain points on account of the bad conditions of certain roads.

The stunt band was one of the features of the parade. Willie Wright, dressed up to advertise Ladies Ready to Wear at Higdon-McElroy's was another. The cars were all decorated to advertise the Merchandise Shower and especially attractive banners were carried by some of the firms, advertising sales and certain wares offered here. Bargain prices, quality merchandise and other features of advertising novelties were carried along by many of the business men and in the path of the tourists, these are now being distributed liberally and there'll be a long, long trail of good reading left when the tourists return tonight.

Folwell, treasurer of the Manufacturers' Club of Philadelphia, was another important witness before the committee.

PROBERS DOUBLE UP TO FINISH CAMPAIGN LOOK IN

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—In order to air all possible evidence of campaign funds before election the Senate investigating committee divided today—one section remaining here, the other going to Chicago where a simultaneous inquiry will begin Wednesday.

Chairman Borah and Senator Shipsted, Minnesota, will constitute the Chicago committee which will subject Chairman Butler and Treasurer Hodges of the Republican National Committee to further examination. Samuel Untermyer, New York lawyer, associated with Frank P. Walsh, as counsel for Senator La Follette, will accompany the committee to Chicago.

Meanwhile Senators Caraway, Arkansas and Bayard, Delaware, will conduct the investigation here. Walsh will stay here to press his charges of a huge slush fund in examining a score of bankers and business men called to testify regarding republican contributors.

At the same time Weymouth Kirkland of Chicago, counsel for the Republican National Committee, who entered the investigation yesterday indicated that he intends to insist upon the calling of witnesses to substantiate his charges that "enormous sums" are being spent on behalf of the La Follette campaign and not accounted for by the independent managers.

While in Chicago, Borah's section of the committee probably will hear the republican state chairman of Illinois and Ohio, called at the request of Untermyer. The republican State Chairman of Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey are expected to be heard here within the next few days.

"In view of the fact that our present display of relics and curios is fast crowding the present cabin, the gift is both timely and thoughtful," she said. Around the two old fashioned buildings will be built an old fashioned rail fence, Abraham Lincoln style, while other improvements in the yard will carry out the idea of yesteryear.

YOUNG LOEB MAY ATTEND FUNERAL OF HIS FATHER

(By United Press)

CHICAGO, Oct. 28. — Richard "Dickie" Loeb who with Nathan Leopold Jr., murdered 14-year-old Bobby Franks, may be released from the Illinois State penitentiary at Joliet long enough to attend the funeral of his multi-millionaire father, Tibert H. Loeb, who died at his home here shortly before midnight.

John L. Whitman, ward of the penitentiary is known to favor the granting of permission to prisoners to attend funerals of near relatives and if application is made, it is considered almost certain that Dickie will leave the prison for a few hours at least.

Richard's father, senior vice-president of Sears-Roebuck & Company, expired of heart failure after a prolonged illness. Members of the Loeb family were emphatic in denying that death was brought about or even hastened by the confession, court hearing and sentencing of his third eldest son to penitentiary for life.

JOLIET, Ill., Oct. 28.—"Dickie" Loeb doesn't know that his father, Albert H. Loeb is dead.

Young Loeb, who was sentenced to life imprisonment in the Illinois State penitentiary here for murdering Bobby Franks, probably will be notified some time today of his father's death in Chicago last night, Warden John L. Whitman told the United Press.

The notification, Whitman said, will be simple and will not interfere with the prisoner's work. He will work as usual in the chair factory.

Permission to attend his father's funeral can be granted young Loeb only by Governor Len Small, Whitman explained.

Ben B. Hunt was a Groesbeck visitor Tuesday afternoon.

MIDDLE WEST IS INTERESTED IN BALL SCANDAL INQUIRY

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

COLUMBUS, Ohio., Oct. 28.—While the Middle West is interested primarily in football now, there is considerable talk about the recent baseball scandal and some curiosity as to what Commissioner Landis is going to do about it.

The scandal, perhaps, would not have drawn so much attention in the Middle West, if it had involved the players of any other club, but there is a general feeling of animosity toward the Natonal League champions all over the western scope of the circuit.

It is not a personal matter at all but a reflex action of the old desire t osee a champion hit on the chin after he has been the champion for a while.

Not only because they have been champions so long and because they have been accused of buying pennants through the purchase of star players, are the Giants so well known in the West. The New York team became the most prominent club in the league years ago when John McGraw took around the circuit a club that would knock an ear off if even a cold look was cast at them.

The feeling exists all through the Middle West that there is something more to the scandal than has been made public and the feling is being expressed that Commissioner Ladis owns it to the public to give all the information at his disposal without being forced into court to talk.

The fans in the Middle West still feel how they were fooled over the White Sox scandal in 1919 and they don't want to be placed in the sucker class again. Other baseball talk aside fro mthe scandal, is being heard. It is reported that Rosy Ryan, the Giant pitcher, has been traded to the St. Louis Cards and that Rogar Hornsby will succeed Branch Rickey as the manager of the St. Louis Club.

Rabe Benton is to be traded or released by the Cincinnati Reds for the same reason that Pat Duncan has sent away to Washington, it is said. They were said to be out of sympathy with their manager last season. George Burns, the veteran Cincinnati outfielder may be traded.

HAUGHTON DIES SUDDENLY AT NEW YORK HOSPITAL

By FRANK GETTY.
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

The famous girdiron mentor passed away suddenly from an attack of neuralgia of the heart at St. Luke's Hospital at 5:10 p. m. Monday.

Haughton practically died in harness; he was donning his football togs preparatory to directing the Columbia University eleven in practice at Bakerfield, when he complained of pains in his chest. Two hours later he died.

Tribute to Haughton as a man and as a coach poured into Columbia today. Walter Camp, Coach "Bob" Fisher of Harvard, Roper of Princeton and John T. Blossom, Yale, director of athletics all were shocked at the sudden death of the football genius whose "Haughton System" had enabled Harvard teams to sweep the gridirons of the east.

While Haughton was at Harvard, his teams won 64 games, tied five and lost but four. But his achievement within the past fortnight at Columbia was being hailed by football enthusiasts as even more remarkable, when his sudden end plunged the university into deep gloom. Haughton had given Columbia a scrapping, scientific eleven, perhaps its best in a score of years and victory over Williams Saturday marked the accomplishment.

Himself a famous athlete in his younger days—Haughton was in his 49th year—the coach had enjoyed good health. At the end, doctors at St. Luke's were assuring him there was nothing the matter with his heart. It developed later, however, that his mother and one brother died from a similar cause.

The coach was in his room at Bakerfield getting into uniform, when he complained of pains in his chest and shoulders. Dr. Paul C. Withington, medical director and line coach of the Columbia team, persuadad him with difficulty to lie down and later to go to St. Luke's. There, following a hypodermic injection, he felt better for a while and remarked "I think I'll be back on the job in a day or two." Then he fell back dead.

Dr. Withington will take charge of Columbia's football team for the remainder of the season.

"Paul, congratulate the team for me. Tell them I'll be proud of them," was the message Haughton sent from the hospital a few minutes before he died.

Sam Werner was a Coolidge visitor today where he joined the Mexia caravan of cars advertising the Merchandise Shower.

FORD DECLARES COOLIDGE IS BEST MAN IN RACE

(By United Press)

DETROIT, Mich. Oct. 28.—"I'm for Coolidge because he is opposed to the money power," declared Henry Ford today in a statement issued by the automobile manufacturer from his Dearborn offices.

"Personally," he declared, "I have no doubt but that Coolidge will be decisively elected. He will be elected because he has refused to be the tool of any class. He has not served any special interest. Wall street has found that he cannot be handled and by Wall street I mean that section of the international money trust that operates in the United States in Wall street, in Lombard street in London and in the Place De La Bourse in Paris. That is the money power that made the war, poisoned the peace, exploited Germany and threw England into unemployment. That money power does not want Calvin Coolidge.

"Men have come to me and asked how I could support Coolidge, a republican when I supported Wilson, a democrat. I'm not supporting Coolidge because he is a republican. I did not support Wilson because he was a democrat. I am for Coolidge now because I believe that he thinks more of the people than of the party. I think he is an able man, deserving the support of all forward looking men.

"I appreciate the fact that Coolidge's opponents have attempted to make it appear that his support has largely a corporation flavor. Coolidge is supported by American businessmen but I believe that he is for American business as against the money power. Not for a long time has our government been so free of the influence of special interests as during Coolidge's brief administration. He stands for the new as against the old; honesty as against old compromise; public service as against party log rolling. New business systems confront each other in this country—production as against profits; service as against spoils. I think Coolidge is on the side of production, service and prosperity. That's why I am for Coolidge."

Tom Nolan has returned from a business trip which carried him to Alexandria, La. He reached home on the noon train Tuesday.

Mesdames J. W. Elliott, Gene Sinclair, T. F. Morrow and Ben Howard are in Corsicana Tuesday, where they accepted an invitation to play golf extended by Mrs. Sam Jackson.

Davis, Democratic presidential nominee, has subscribed $1,000 to the cause, according to notification to A. H. Eubanks, County Finance Chairman for Democratic National Committee, by the Dallas office.

"Mr. Cardon is but one of the many Texans who have subscribed liberally to aid the fight," says Mr. Eubanks, "but there are many in the county who have not subscribed and who should do so at once as only a few days remain before the final test comes at the polls. By joining the Victory Clubs and paying $10, $5 or even $1 for membership, loyal Democrats are performing a duty that is almost as imperative as going to the voting booth and voting, and to be a member of the Victory Clubs means that you are for Davis and Bryan.

"The wonderful battle being waged by the nominees gives every prospect of a successful climax, but is being handicapped almost to its end by the National Committee's being in need of funds for necessary expenses, and every Democrat should do his best to alleviate such a situation.

"Everey indication points to a Democratic victory at the polls. As the Memphis Commercial-Appeal say editorially: 'The intelligent thought of the United States is reacting very stronglyy against the campaign of silence that President Coolidge is waging. It is remembering that his is just as impotent against official corruption.' Political analysts are becoming convinced that Colidge's re-election is next to impossible."

Judge A. M. Blackmon and Hon. Frank Bolton are scheduled to deliver addresses Wednesday night at Thornton in the interest of the Democratic party ticket.

J. K. Hughes was able to be out today, following an attack of tonsilitis. He is very much enthused over the prospects of the early discovery of oil in the Northeast Mexia territroy.

The Harrison Preston number 1 test at Kosse is reported to be drilling at around 1,000 feet. The test is being watched with growing interest.

Fred Karner returned Monday from Dallas where he spent Saturday and Sunday.

A Mode of Slenderizing Lines

Fur Bands Give Additional Chic

Each new design that Paris produces for the well-proportioned figure shows that it is possible for the stout woman to wear whatever is designed for slender figures, provided one knows how to make the necessary adaptations.

In the first place one of the suede-finished fabrics that cling to the figure was selected for this model. All of the ultra-smart fabrics come in a variety of browns that offer a becoming tone for every type of face or figure. For this model 3½ yards of kasha cloth are needed, with 3 yards of narrow fur banding. It will be noticed that nowhere does the fur run in a continuous line, thereby increasing the apparent size of the figure.

The two diagrams show how to cut the shaped facing for the armhole of the lining, since the sleeves and vestee are attached to a fitted lining. Select a piece of the same material as the garment and be careful to match the grain of the goods. Lay the edge of the lining right side downward on the right side of the uncut material (Fig. I), to be used for the facing. Baste perfectly flat, then stitch on the machine. Cut the facing material the same shape as the lining, clipping the edge of each curve to make the facing lie flat.

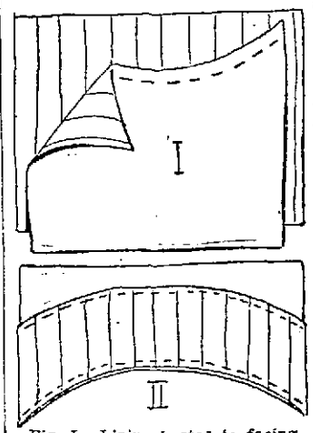

Fig. I.—Lining basted to facing.
Fig. II.—Finish facing.

Turn the facing to the under side, drawing the seam back from the edge of the lining and baste. Mark the exact width of the facing from the bottom line, cut the facing and baste (Fig. II). Finish with fine hemming stitches or, if preferred, overstitch with narrow soutache braid.

Plain Facts On Financial Situation

By W. S. COUSINS,

International News Service
Financial Editor.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Not so many years ago a first mortgage on real estate was considered the par excellence of investments by people who had only a modest sum to invest and were not well versed in the intricacies of finance and investments.

Investors of this type were most favorable to loaning their money on mortgage to their friends and neighbors whose property was close at hand and therefore under their constant scrutiny. This principle in practical investment is absolutely correct, provided, of course, that property valuations are conservative and allow for depreciation before the maturity of the mortgage, and that proper legal safeguards, such as clear title to property, removal of liens or other encumbrances, are provided.

The old-style first mortgage is the basis for that popular form of investment known as the real estate mortgage bond, which is in reality a certificate of partial ownership of a general mortgage on real estate. The same conditions prevail in the consideration of the attractiveness of a real estate mortgage held by our grandfathers on the property of his neighbor or of the town banking house. Is the property on which the underlying mortgage is written conservatively appraised, free from encumbrances and so situated in every way that it would sell for the amount of the total mortgage at forced sale, and are the bonds so issued that each individual holder will receive the amount due him on his holdings in the event of such sale?

How To Choose.

In choosing between mortgages or bonds as a medium of investment, the investor should consider the relative values and means of control over property on the securities of which there might be a default in interest payment or some other breach of contract.

In the case of the bond issue an investor could only combine with other holders of bonds of the same issue in a legal suit in which he must proportionately contribute to court expenses. On default of the payment of mortgage interest, or inability of a mortgage to make payments on the principal sum, the investor, on foreclosure, may obtain full control of the property and possibly secure the return of his funds more easily.

On the other hand, the necessary checking up of interest, tax, possible assessment payments and other charges on mortgaged property is a task which requires very much attention, and which best can be done by an organization equipped for the purpose. A trustee for a mortgage bond issue which is generally a trust company or a mortgage selling organization, is compelled by law to enforce every necessary requirement of the mortgage indenture and, as a rule, overlooks nothing, while an individual might easily overlook the failure to comply with some technical point which might easily invalidate the mortgage and cause considerable loss. It is for the investor to decide which form of security he prefers.

Can Sell the Bonds.

While individual mortgages have less of the important element of marketability than other forms of investments, the mortgage bond issued with the guaranty of a strong mortgage selling corporation can generally be sold under necessity through the same channels.

Within the last few years investment bankers and heads of prominent mortgage companies have been sounding a note of warning against the purchase of so-called first mortgage real estate bonds issued against properties that have been improperly appraised and against which the volume of bond issues has been entirely too great. The unprecedented building demand of the last few years, the high rental rates for dwelling and business building funds on the one hand, and the heavy demand for high-coupon real estate bonds in investment circles on the other, has been an incentive for excessive issues of real estate bonds which many of the bond selling corporations were unable to resist. Consequently the bars have been let down in some cases on the placing out of bonds on speculative property, and it is even said that some properties were bonded for more than 100 per cent of their actual value.

So long as rents remain high, income large and the yearly installments are met in sufficient sums to keep pace with the depreciation of the value of buildings on which bonds are issued, there is no great danger for the bond holder. But a sudden slump in real estate values, or wholesale removal of tenants might easily cause a calamitous decline in the values of the bonds standing against such properties. The Investment Bankers' Association of America has given much study to the subject, and the results of this study are available to all who are sufficiently interested to make inquiry at the office of this important bankers' organization in Chicago.

Radley Brings A New Industry In Form of Hatchery

J. W. Radley has installed and completed his 10,000 chick hatchery at his place of business on the road leading out of Mexia to Groesbeck, only about a mile out of town. He has brought a new thing to the Mexia section and one which will likely prove a great help to the poultry producers and one which will stimulate interest in this industry which should prove so profitable to the section. Mr. Radley is advertising his hatchery for the benefit of the public. Under his plan, poultry raisers may leave with him their trays of 96 eggs to be placed in the hatchery, which he will look after closely and with the attention of an expert at much less cost than one could hatch them in his own incubator.

The Preacher In Politics Question

(From the Baptist Standard)

Whatever the issue, whenever moral questions have come up, we have been told that preachers should let politics alone. During the prohibition campaigns it was heard frequently. Preachers were told that they should stay in their pulpit and preach the pure Gospel —and politicians who were fighting in behalf of the liquor traffic and other nefarious evils would limit the Gospel, in its application, to the world to come, and not to this present world. In the first State-wide prohibition campaign in Texas in 1887, a distinguished United States senator from Texas sealed his political doom by his attacks on Dr. B. H. Carroll and other preachers who so valiantly fought to drive out of Texas the legalized liquor traffic. We have never had a political campaign in Texas from that time until this day, whatever the issues or men involved, that we have not heard the same cry, "Preachers should stay out of politics; religion and politics will not mix." It will be so to the end of time.

Take the city and county of Dallas for instance. Some years ago Dallas county voted in favor of local option and drove out the saloons, before either State or National prohibition was adopted. The preachers along with hundreds of great-hearted laymen and women contributed to the victory. On Sunday night before the election was held in Dallas, two of the best known preachers in Texas, one a Baptist, the other a Methodist, both citizens of Dallas, urged the thousands of people assembled in the coliseum at fair park, to close the saloons with their ballots. A year or two before we had another fight to abolish the segregated districts of vice in the city. Certain city officials were opposed to the abolition of these districts. Again, the pastors of the city stood together and fought in behalf of righteousness. In both of these fights the preachers were criticized for taking part in politics. The preachers did right. No preacher who is loyal to the Gospel of the Son of God dare be indifferent to great moral issues in government.

Years ago the county was cursed by the Louisiana lottery, which was reaching out its tentacles from New Orleans and destroying thousands of homes. A brave Presbyterian preacher in New Orleans, Dr. Palmer, dared to raise his voice in protest against that institution. Financial interests connected with the lottery insisted that a preacher had no right to get into politics; but Dr. Palmer kept up the fight until the lottery was driven out of New Orleans and out of the United States.

Politics is the science of government. This is the highest and truest meaning of the term. It is used frequently, however, in a baser sense—the use of strategy and deceit, to obtain unrighteous ends. Every Christian citizen, whether preacher or layman, should be interested in politics of the higher order. No citizen has any business in politics of the other sort. Preachers are citizens and should be concerned about good government, whether of the city, the State or the nation.

In the New Testament we are told that Jesus Christ was manifested not only to take away sins, but also to destroy the works of the devil (I John 3:5 and 8). If preachers are true to their commission, they must not only hold out the hope of forgiveness for sin, but they must give themselves to the limit to the business of destroying the works of the devil.

We believe in absolute separation of church and state. We contend for religious liberty—for the right of every man to believe as he chooses. No religious organization has any right to impose upon the citizens of the state without their consent, whether in public office, in schools, or elsewhere, any creedal statements, whether regeneration through personal faith in Christ or absolution by a priest. Questions of belief and worship must be left with the individual and God. But the state and the church are both concerned about conduct. Christian citizens should put in office such men, and enact such legislation as will protect the highest interests of our State and nation, and will make it easier for people to live right. The religion of Christ should find practical expression in good government. Nathan got into politics when he helped to carry out the purposes of God in putting on the throne of David, Solomon rather than Adonijah. Elijah got into politics. So did John the Baptist. So did John Knox. So have Christian leaders through all the ages.

We have just been reading again the life story of Savonarola of Florence. It is a good thing, for preachers, once in a while, to read the life story of Savonarola, to put iron into their blood. His preaching had displeased Lorenzo and the Magnificent, who was at that time the most powerful figure in Italy, and the great men of Florence. Lorenzo, so the biographer tells us, sent a deputation to wait on Savonarola, telling him that it was not good form to preach against Prince Lorenzo. "Did I receive my position from Lorenzo or from Almighty God?" Savonarola's eyes blazed and he spoke in tones of thunder. The answer was, "From Almighty God." "Then," said Savonarola, "to Almighty God will I render homeage."

It will be a tragic hour in the world's history when preachers, and their Christian fellow-workers, withdraw themselves from the affairs of government and leave the affairs of the State and nation in the hands of evil men. Let not the prophet of God become involved in purely personal or partisan questions, but when great moral issues are involved he dare not be silent.

"Good Bye Winter!" When the Sunny Caribbean Beckons

When the incomparable Melba, the Australian songbird, sang "Good Bye, Summer!" she warbled a mouthful, to use the popular speech of the street; but nowadays Melba would make even a bigger hit if she were to sing "Good Bye, Winter!" and throw a West Indies cruise ticket in with the number.

The chap in the accompanying picture was cheering for summer on a cold New York pier in January as the "Empress of Britain" with a happy load of travelers was leaving New York for a trip of 20 days to the sunny, palm-crowned islands of the storied West Indies and the mainland of South America. As a woman enjoys the inalienable privilege of changing her mind, so a ship can change her name and be just as good a ship as she ever was. The "Empress of Britain," is now the "Montroyal," named after a wonderful mountain towering over the great Canadian city of Montreal, and on Jan. 20 and Feb. 21, 1925, the "Montroyal" is to make her seventh and eighth voyages to Summerland in the romantic and historic Caribbean. She is of 23,500 tons displacement and some 15,650 tons gross register, and, being an oil-burner, old King Coal never has a chance to go aboard and smudge the white decks of her passengers.

Bermuda, the Bahamas, Porto Rico, one of Uncle Sam's possessions, Martinique, famous for the tragedy of St. Pierre, Trinidad, La Guayra and Caracas on the north shore of South America, Curacao, in the Dutch West Indies, Cartagena in Colombia, Colon and the world-famed Panama Canal, Kingston, the port of Jamaica, Port au Prince, in Hayti, and Havana, the picturesque capital of Cuba, the Queen of the Antilles—these with their strange peoples, strange customs and eternal summer, welcome a cruise ship and make their visitors almost as much at home and almost as comfortable as they are when afloat on the blue seas.

One of many interesting side trips is that to Colon and Panama, part way by rail and through the famous Culebra Cut of the Panama Canal by steamer. In Panama city tourists are shown the ruins of Old Panama which was sacked by Morgan, the pirate, in 1671. At Gatun they see the great locks which lift and lower the largest steamships passing through Uncle Sam's wonderful canal across the Isthmus of Panama.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Kendrick and son Harold went to Houston last Friday to spend the week end with their son, W. B. Jr. They were joined later by Mrs. Val Horn and Miss Elinor Moore. On Saturday, the Mexia party witnessed the triumh of the Rice Freshmen over the strong football squad from Terrill. W. B. Jr., better known as "Dub" played throughout the game. Saturday night the party had a most enjoyable dinner at the Rice which was also attended by several others from Mexia.

BE A MILLIONAIRE, SAYS BRUCE BARTON

Don't try to save money until and figured that he was putting you crowd the pleasure out of your life, says Bruce Barton, the writer. Be a millionaire for a little while, perhaps for only one evening in a month, but don't fail to live like a prince now and then.

Too many persons, says Barton, in Hearst's International for November, save and skimp along when they might as well get a little real pleasure out of life. Barton swats bankers and real estate agents for advising everybody to stick all their money into banks or homes.

"I have seen a family set up a home as a graven image to ownership," he says. "All the joy and thrill of life were slain upon its altar. Father gave up smoking. Mother never went anywhere, having no decent clothes; and at every meal the children were reminded sternly that cream and butter cost too much. The place was paid for finally, paid for in tears and blood and blighted lives. Shortly after the final payment the neighbors caught their first glimpse of the parlor. They were invited in to look at father. He looked very natural."

Mr. Barton has a theory on how a family with small means can live like millionaires once in a while and still save. In fact, he maintains his millionaire-for-a-day plan is an excellent investment for any one.

SPORTLIGHTS

(By United Press)

NORMAN, Ok.—A jinx will have befallen the Sooners unless "Mex" the mascot of the squad is found. Mex is a brown and white spotted bull dog, known throughout Missouri Valley football circles. He was lost in changing trains on the trip to Des Moines last Saturday.

HOUSTON.—Wasting no time in preparing for the Longhorn game Saturday, Coach John Heismann sent his Rice Owls through scrimmage last night with his reserves using Texas plays. Heyck, lineman, injured in Saturday's conflict was the only missing player.

ANNAPOLIS — Four of the Navy's most valuable players have been found ineligible for football because of deficiencies in scholastic work and will not be allowed to play until Nov. 22 at least when another school month ends. The players are Shapely, Star quarterbacks; Flippen, who next to Shapely is the most experienced back; Osborne, the best center in years and the 220-pound guard, Lentz.

NEW HAVEN—Slight injuries kept Captain Lovejoy and Quarterback Bench from signal drill yesterday but they are expected to be in shape for the Army game Saturday.

CAMBRIDGE—Harvard is taking it easy. The varsity will not do much heavy practice for the Boston University game Saturday, but will point almost entirely to the Princeton game on Nov. 8.

PRINCETON—Most of the varsity was excused from practice yesterday, but Forest, the husky center, who has been laid up for two weeks, with injuries was in uniform and is expected to be ready for the Harvard game.

WEST POINT—The army having come through the Boston game without any injuries resumed practice yesterday for the Yale game and went through a light scrimmage with a longer signal drill.

URBANA—Brisk practice intended to strengthen the line is coach Zuppke's formula of preparing his Illini gridders for the Iowa tilt. He feels sure the offense with "Red" Grange, is capable.

IOWA CITY—While Coach Ingerson looked frantically for a heavy guard to replace Fierkensen, lost for the season on account of a bad shoulder, the hawkeyes ramaged against the scrubs using Illinois formations.

LA FAYETTE—With all the sick and injured back in uniform except Monroe and Deephouse, Coach Jimmy Phelan sent his Boilermakers through a gruelling scrimmage in preparation for Chicago.

ANN HARBOR—Captain Steger was to report for practice today. This announcement bolstered the Wolverine hopes immeasurably yesterday and they went through a long session willingly in preparation for Minnesota.

FORT WORTH — The Horned Frogs got down to heavy practice today for the game with S. M. U. here Friday.

Work and Keep Fit, Advice of Health Expert to Women

CHICAGO—Work and keep fit is the best health tonic for American womanhood, declares Dr. Sarah C. O'Connell, high medical examiner for the Women's Catholic Order of Foresters, a fraternal society numbering more than 70,000 women as members. The woman who works with hands and brain is generally more alert, more organically sound and has brighter prospects for a happy old age than her sister who lives a life of leisure, asserted this veteran medical examiner who has reviewed the applications of thousands of women seeking membership.

"Between the chances of passing a physical test by the average society woman and the average worker, I always choose the worker," said Dr. O'Connell. "In the main, women who do things are healthier and more likely to pass medical examinations. Many ills are augmented by worry. The woman who is employed in store, office or factory has not the time to sit around, discuss symptoms and feel sorry for herself. Her life is better ordered, she has regular activities to occupy her time and she takes good care of herself because she knows she cannot afford to be ill.

"Medical examinations in our society are as careful and thorough as those of any old line company. The impression that members are admitted to a fraternal order in a haphazard manner with merely a perfunctory medical examination is all wrong. It is to the advantage of all our 1,200 courts to have a healthy membership and low death rate."

Dr. O'Connell has supervision of some 1,000 subordinate medical examiners of the W. C. O. F. and general charge of the health of the order. Her observations on the health of the woman who works are drawn from a large amount of personal data and experience. She is an alumna of the medical college of the University of Illinois and was elected to her office at the international convention two years ago.

BOYD NOT TO DRILL IN UNTIL AFTER NOVEMBER ELECTIONS: SIMMONS 1 SPUDS IN ON MONDAY

The Boyd Oil Company's Simmons number 1 was spudded in Monday night and today is drilling toward the Woodbine sands of Northeast Menlo and near the southern city limits of Wortham.

The Boyd Company's Boyd 1 is being standardized but will not be drilled in until after November 4. Colonel A. E. Humphreys left Monday for Denver where he will remain until after the election, at which time he will return and the work of drilling in will begin. Much encouragement is felt over this test and from the way the company has been buying up royalties in the vicinity of the test, it would seem that the operators feel certain that they are to open up a new pool there. Should this be the case, the Colonel's company is due to make many millions of dollars. The company has several hundred acres in leases and as many more in royalties.

The Carter and Lytle was lighted up Monday night, as efforts went forward to make a gas producer out of the test, which was reported to have gone into salt water, from below. Monday.

The J. W. Heesier on the J. J. Stubbs is drilling around 700 feet.

DALLAS—Coach Morrison gave the S. M. U. Mustangs a long workout in pass heaving today.

AUSTIN—Longhorn regulars and substitutes were scheduled for a scrimmage game by coach Doc Stewart today as a preliminary for the meet with Rice Institute at Houston Saturday.

COLLEGE STATION — Light scrimmage and plenty of aerial work was prescribed for the Texas Aggies in today's round. The Farmers play Baylor U. at Waco as a feature of the Cotton Palace Exposition Saturday.

CHAMPION MILK COW HOLDS WORLD'S RECORD

(By International News Service.)

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 28.—Segis Pieterjie Prospect, champion milk cow of the world, on exhibition at the recent National Dairy Show here, yields her own weight in milk every eighteen days.

The champion of champions is an eleven-year-old Holstein, bred in America. She holds the two highest milk records ever made. Her world's record is 37, 381.4 pounds of milk in a year. Her other record is 35,556.0 pounds.

"SAVE THE FOREST" CAMPAIGN IN CANADA

OTTAWA, Oct. 28.—Canada's "Save the Forest" campaign has resulted in a marked decrease in the number of forest fires throughout the Dominion so far this year, according to reports received by the Forestry Branch of the Department of the Interior.

The number of firse reported in areas served by the Canadian National Railways up to September 30 totaled 375, a decrease of 15 per cent, compared with last year's total. About 300 of these occurred west of Winnipeg, where weather conditions were more favorable to forest fires than in Eastern Canada.

Ban Entertainments On School Hours

(By United Press)

DALLAS, Oct. 28.—Parties and entertainments on school nights are at an end at Southwestern Methodist University, according to the latest decree of the faculty committee on student activities.

The regulations which in effect say that no fraternity or sorority can give or attend any entertainment on school nights without the permission of the faculty, has caused much wailing and gnashing of teeth.

But the committee declares their orders will stand no matter what protest is launched.
